

Matthieu Brucker.

Chief Strategy & Corporate Affairs Officer.

“Think simplicity equals the easy route? Think again– simplicity is courageous, it can change your outlook on everything.”

A strategic leader, Matthieu Brucker has a bird’s eye view of Opella’s equity story. He is behind the business’ repeatable model of growth, culture repositioning and is always aligned to the Opella vision of becoming the best Fast Moving Consumer Healthcare company, in and for the world.

He is passionate about dispelling health misconceptions and its impact on people’s lives. An advocate for simplicity, he believes this way of thinking is a catalyst for driving positive change around the world.

Working with Sanofi Pasteur initially from 2013 and latterly Opella since 2021, Matthieu has held a number of roles including, France Head of Business Analytics and Market Research, UK Sales Representative and Chief of Staff. Before joining Opella, he spent nearly a decade in business consultancy with firms such as Boston Consulting Group, ESTIN & Co., and Alcimed.

His passion for healthcare was sparked during his studies at École Polytechnique, where he earned an MSc in Engineering, focusing on Biology and Biochemistry. He also holds a Master’s in Biology and Human Nutrition from AgroParisTech, as well as a Master’s in Geopolitics from Sorbonne University.

An avid sailor away from his desk, he can often be found out on the water.
